

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Science World Announces Free Day Presented by BC Hydro on April 23

From 10 am to 5 pm PST on April 23, Science World is free for all to attend, an excellent day enjoyable for all ages

Vancouver, BC, April 19, 2022 – Science World and BC Hydro are pleased to announce a free day will be hosted this Saturday, April 23. Visitors will delight in the current feature exhibition, T. rex: The Ultimate Predator presented by RBC and White Spot Restaurants and other exhibition favourites throughout the globally adored dome.

“We have a rewarding, longstanding partnership with BC Hydro and we’re thrilled that they chose to support this day so that all are able to attend,” said Tracy Redies, President & CEO of Science World. “Their team understands and embraces the importance of barrier-free accessibility to STEAM learning. We look forward to welcoming past and new guests.”

“We are proud to be a part of Science World Free Day,” said Chris O’Riley, President & CEO, BC Hydro. “Science World plays an important role in inspiring kids’ interest in science and technology – areas of study that are integral to the work we do powering the province and will be even more paramount as we switch to using more clean hydroelectricity for a lower carbon future.”

Tickets are available today at noon at scienceworld.ca and pre-booking is encouraged as it is expected to fill up.

Health and safety protocols can be found here and photos can be found at this link.

Media

Larissa Dundon

604.649.5506
larissa@the-tea.co

About Science World

Science World is a BC-based charitable organization that engages the people of British Columbia in STEAM literacy. Their mission is to ignite wonder and empower dreams through science and nature. Their vision is that within a generation, Canada will be a country of thriving, sustainable communities rooted in science, innovation and a deep connection to nature.

